Oedo Vaudeville Show and Traditional Geisha Dances X

Part 1 "Oedo Vaudeville Show"

Wadaiko: SAKAMOTO Masayuki

Wadaiko (Japanese drum) has been one of the familiar and traditional percussion instruments among common people in Japan for years. Performing wadaiko gives us both strong and dynamic impact on the audience. Please sit back and enjoy the soothing rhythm of wadaiko.

Daikagura: KAGAMI Michiyo

Originally, Kagura (sacred music and dance performance in shrines) was born as one of the Shintoism traditional rituals and customs. In Edo era Kagura gradually developed a branch of specific dance performance as a pastime of common people nationwide. Daikagura has been one of the most familiar traditional performing arts in Japan. It always has been developing its skills and performances in the long history. Spinning dishes and balancing activities, for example, are thrilling eye-openers to watch. Enjoy yourselves.

Rakugo: YANAGIYA Gontaro

The main part of the show comes the last, the "Rakugo" performance. Rakugo is a Japanese traditional comic story-telling, reflecting the bittersweet sentiments of the common people. YANAGIYA Gontaro is an expert in classical Rakugo story-telling, One of the most popular rakugoka (story teller), he is the master of the rakugo world.

Part 2 "Traditional Geisha Dances"

Enjoy the beautiful traditional dances performed by geisha dancers, and the music played by geisha musicians. They all come from six entertainment districts of Tokyo, namely Shimbashi, Akasaka, Asakusa, Kagurazaka, Yoshicho and Mukojima.

There will be a demonstration of "Ozashiki-asobi", a game played with geisha in "ozashiki", a place to hold private banquets in a traditional Japanese style.

There also will be a comic performance by "Hokan" SAKURAGAWA Yoneshichi, a professional male entertainer.
